Armen Moskvitin declares under the penalty of perjury pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746 that the following is true and correct:

- 1. I am the Senior Director of CRM & Lifecycle Marketing for Defendant CookUnity Inc. (incorrectly identified herein as CookUnity LLC) ("CookUnity"), and as such I am familiar with the facts and circumstances set forth herein. I submit this Declaration in support of Defendant's Motion to Compel Arbitration and to Stay the Litigation.
 - 2. CookUnity is an innovative chef-to-consumer food delivery service.
- 3. As part of CookUnity's marketing efforts, CookUnity sends text and SMS messages to individuals who provide prior express written consent to receive such messages through CookUnity's website.
- 4. CookUnity does not send text or SMS messages to any phone number unless it receives an individual's consent and phone number through its website.
- 5. CookUnity does not purchase any "leads" from any sources. All of its "leads" are people who visit the CookUnity website and provide their information and consent to be contacted.

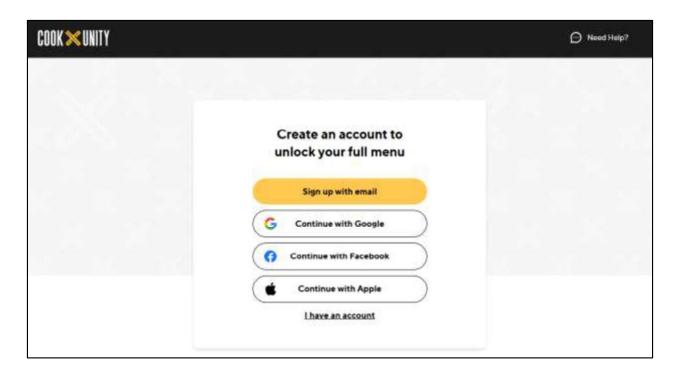

- 6. CookUnity maintains an internal Do Not Call ("DNC") list.
- 7. Individuals who wish to receive text messages from CookUnity or purchase a CookUnity subscription may do through CookUnity's website, CookUnity.com.
- 8. The sign-up process on the CookUnity website begins on a landing page, where visitors are prompted to enter their zip code, as depicted below.

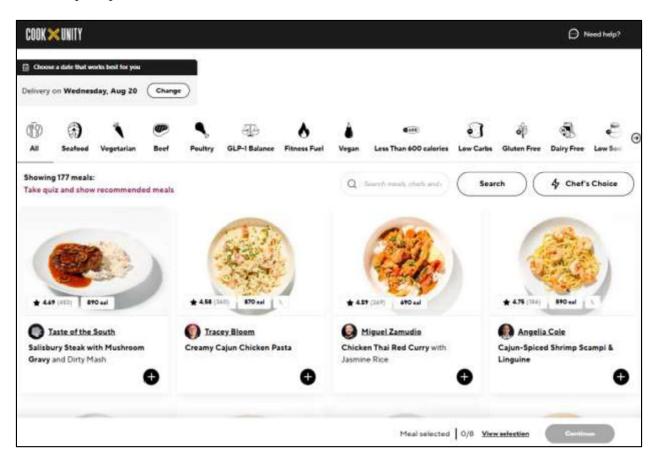

9. Once a visitor to CookUnity.com enters their zip code, they are prompted to enter the number of weekly meals they would like to receive.

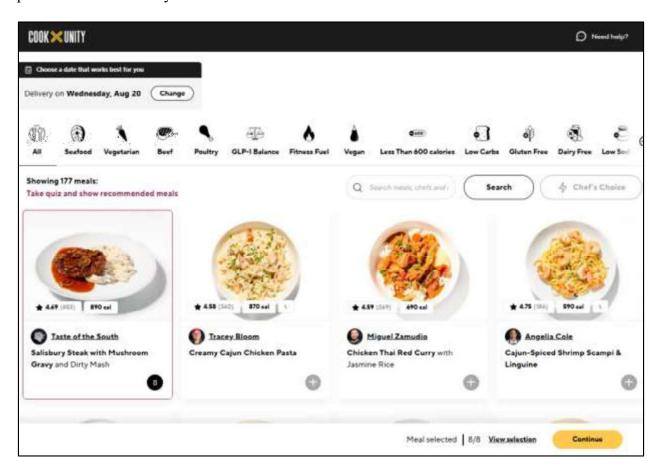

10. The visitor will next be prompted to create an account or proceed through an existing account with CookUnity, Google, Facebook, or Apple.

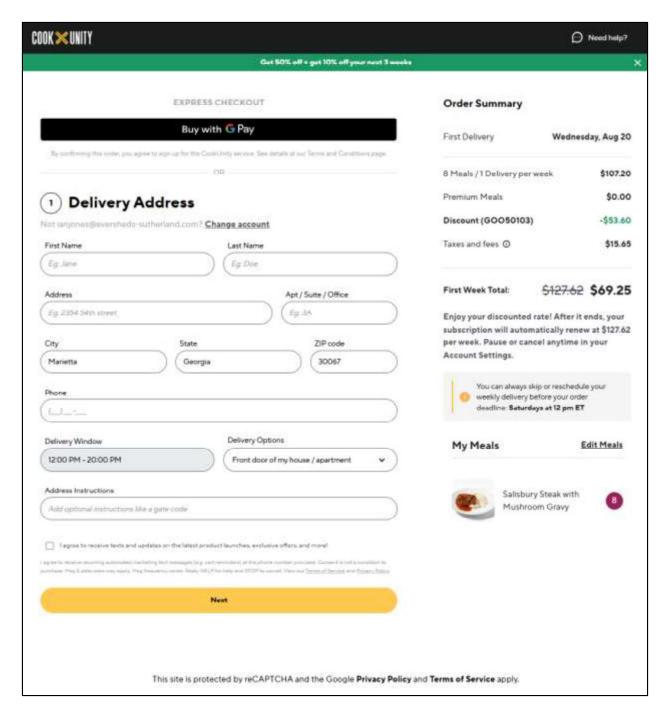

11. After either logging in or creating an account with an email and password, the visitor is prompted to select their first week's meals.

12. Only once the visitor selects the first week's meals can they continue to the next phase on the CookUnity website.

13. Once a visitor selects their meals, they are prompted to input their delivery address, contact information, and delivery window.

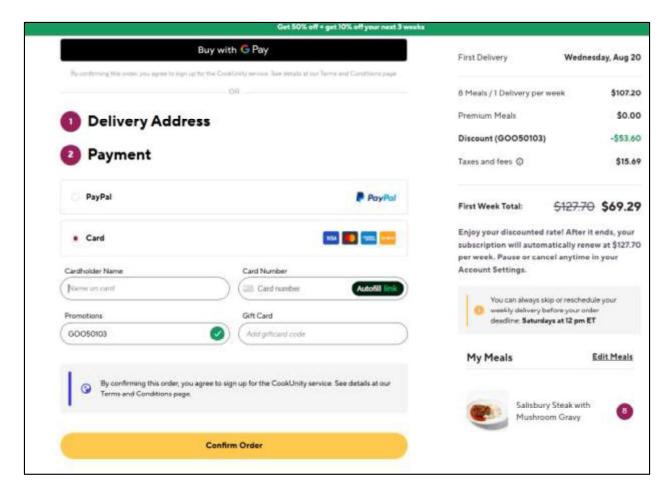

- 14. Only after entering location information, selecting a number of meals, creating an account, selecting the first week's meals, and entering contact and delivery information can a visitor affirmatively provide their prior express written consent to receive text messages from CookUnity.
 - 15. Visitors are presented with a check box, where they may "agree to receive texts and updates on the latest product launches, exclusive offers, and more." Immediately below that check box is the consent language, which explicitly states, "I agree to receive recurring automated marketing text messages (e.g. cart reminders) at the phone number provided. Consent is not a condition to purchase. Msg & data rates may apply. Msg frequency varies. Reply HELP for help and STOP to cancel. View our Terms of Service and Privacy Policy."
